

2023 ASLA CONNECTICUT PROFESSIONAL AWARDS

CALL FOR ENTRIES (also at www.ctasla.org/awards)

Connecticut Chapter • American Society of Landscape Architects

Recognizing excellence in landscape architectural design, planning and analysis, communications, and research.

The Connecticut Chapter of the American Society of Landscape Architects invites submission of professional works to be reviewed for the 2023 Professional Awards. These distinguished awards identify, recognize, and publicize outstanding works of Connecticut landscape architecture or works in other locations by Connecticut-based practitioners.

Eligibility

1. Entrant(s) must be a Full or Associate member of the American Society of Landscape Architects or eligible to join ASLA in one of those categories.
2. The submitted project, communications document, analysis, or research must satisfy one of the following criteria:
 - Be located within Connecticut.
 - If not located in Connecticut, be completed by a Connecticut-based firm or practitioner whose primary mailing address is located in the state.

ASLA Connecticut members whose primary address is outside of Connecticut may submit any project, communications document, analysis, or research related to their work in Connecticut. Projects or works located in other jurisdictions completed by these practitioners should be entered in the corresponding chapter's professional awards instead.

Out-of-state firms with a Connecticut branch office are encouraged to enter projects that are representative of work completed by their Connecticut-based staff. Projects or works principally completed by out-of-state personnel should be entered in the corresponding chapter's professional awards instead.

Entries that rely substantially on the prior project art or design ideas of another landscape architect may be submitted for an award. However, the applicant must clearly credit any and all contributors on the entry form under 'Designers of Record'. If the project is recognized with an award, then any contributing designer will also be recognized as an award recipient.

The non-member entry fee includes a one-year membership in ASLA and the Connecticut Chapter. Non-members will be required to submit an ASLA membership application and payment of the membership fee with their entry. Non-members entering multiple projects shall pay the non-member fee for the first entry and the member fee for any additional entries. For information on membership qualifications and application form, please visit www.asla.org/join.aspx or call 1-888-999-ASLA.

Entry Categories

Projects may be entered in one of the following categories:

- Landscape Architectural Design – Built Works (subcategories include Residential, Municipal/Public Spaces, and Corporate/Institutional): Recognizes constructed, site-specific work of landscape architectural design.

- Landscape Planning and Analysis: Recognizes the wide variety of professional activity that leads to, guides, or evaluates landscape architecture, including development plans; government policies, programs and legislation; environmental analysis; and various landscape analysis. Typical entries include urban, suburban, rural, or regional planning efforts and development guidelines; transportation, town or campus planning; plans for reclamation of brownfield sites; environmental planning in relation to legislative or policy initiatives or regulatory controls; cultural resource reports; natural resources protection and historic preservation planning.
- Landscape Architectural Communication: Examines achievements in communicating landscape architectural information, technology, theory, or practice to those within and/or outside the profession.
- Landscape Architectural Research: Recognizes outstanding works of rigorous research that examines a problem related to landscape architecture and arrives at original findings or solutions of value to the profession.
- The Landmark Legacy: A distinguished landscape architecture project completed between 15 and 50 years ago that retains its original design integrity and contributes significantly to the public realm of the community.
Note: Once a project receives an award from ASLA Connecticut, it is only eligible for future Professional Awards in this category.
- Community Service: Recognizes the value of pro bono work performed by landscape architects as it relates to public appreciation and understanding of the profession. Entries in this category may encompass any aspect of planning, design, or implementation of landscape architectural work that has been volunteered by a practitioner or firm. No entry fee required.

General Submission Requirements

The following shall be included with each entry (see 'Specific Entry Requirements for Each Category' for any additional submission materials):

- 1. The Entry Form with entry fee. (Entry form to be filled out and fee to be paid at www.ctasla.org/award-submissions) Individual or firm names of the award applicant, as well as any partnering design professionals, are to be listed on this online entry form.
- 2. The following information, submitted to awards@ctasla.org as a download link (no password-required file transfer platforms please):
 - A. The PDF of your Jury Presentation — Using the supplied PowerPoint (or InDesign) template, complete a digital presentation including a project summary, a project description, a statement of significance and between 8-15 additional slides of graphics, photographs or other images. (This PDF must not include any individual or company name. If the jury is unblinded though the accidental inclusion of individual or company name on this PDF jury presentation, the project will be removed from the jury's consideration for this year).

Jury

The jury will be composed of out-of-state professionals unaffiliated with ASLA Connecticut. Upon receiving all submissions, it will also be confirmed by ASLA Connecticut and the jury, that no jury member is an employee of a multi-state firm that has submitted for an award in Connecticut this year.

Announcement of Winners

Award winners will be announced at the December 2022 ASLA Connecticut Holiday Party.

Consent and Publicity

All submittals become the property of the Connecticut Chapter of ASLA, to be used for promotion of the profession of landscape architecture through displays, in chapter publications, in local and national media, and on the ASLA Connecticut website and other online outlets, with credit to the submitting firm.

By entering this competition, you grant permission to ASLA Connecticut to reproduce the submitted images. Entrants are solely responsible for securing authorization for ASLA Connecticut's usage from the client and photographers allowing the entry to be submitted, judged, and promoted through displays, online, in chapter publications, and in other media outlets, with credit to the submitting firm. Do not send authorizations or photo releases with your entry; keep for your records. Your signature on the submitted entry form authorizes ASLA Connecticut to use all submitted images for promotion of the profession of landscape architecture as described above. ASLA Connecticut will assume no responsibility for failure to obtain photo releases.
